THE FORCE OF FEAR.

Fright Was the Cause of the Death of Frederick I. of Prussia.

There are several well authenticated cases where fright was the cause of death. An English surgeon tells of a drummer in India across whose legs a harmless lizard crawled while he was half asleep. He was sure that a cobra had bitten him, and it was too much for his nerves, and he died.

Frederick I. of Prussia was killed by fear. His wife was insane, and one day she escaped from her keeper and, dabbling her clothes with blood, rushed upon her husband while he was dozing in his chair. King Frederick imagined her to be the white lady whose ghost was believed to invariably appear whenever the death of a member of the royal family was to occur, and he was thrown into a fever and died in six weeks.

But perhaps the most remarkable death from fear was that of the Dutch painter Pentman, who lived in the seventeenth century. One day he went into a room full of anatomical subjects to sketch some skulls and bones for a picture he intended to paint. The weather was very sultry, and while sketching he fell asleep. He was aroused by bones dancing around him and the skeletons suspended from the ceiling clashing together. In a fit of horror he threw himself out of the window. Though he sustained no serious injury and was informed that a slight earthquake had caused the commotion among the ghostly surroundings, he died of nervous tremor.

THE WREN BUSH.

An Old Custom Still Observed In Ireland at Christmas.

Among the many odd customs still observed in Ireland at Christmas few are more curious than the practice of carrying about "the wren bush" on St. Stephen's day, and antiquaries are puzzled to explain why the poor little "king of all birds" should be put to death on the festival of the first martyr.

The most probable explanation is that the wren was sacred to the Druids and was used by them in divination and other pagan rites at the festival of the winter solstice, which almost coincided with Christmas, and consequently the clergy urged their converts to destroy the birds which were associated with such unholy rites, just as St. Patrick's relentless destruction of the images of serpents, used in the ancient pagan worship of Ireland, gave rise to the legend that he—

Gave the snakes and toads a twist
And banished them all forever!

This seems the more likely, because "drean," the old Irish name for "wren," also means "a Druid," and old folk still call "Jenny" the "Druid bird" and say that she has the gift of prophecy and that those who can interpret her twitterings as she hovers about a house or flies from bush to bush can read the future. In the library of Trinity college, Dublin, there is a curious document describing how to interpret the notes of the wren.—Maud E. Sargent in Longman's Magazine.

We will bet a glass of jelly that you don't pronounce pronounce paraffine right.

Lawyers and the Law.

I expeck it 'd be only a poor lawyer couldn't argue a tack into a cow—'n out of her again, too, f'r that matter—'n' Mr. Weskin ain't no poor lawyer. He's fine 's they make. Of course a good deal of the time no one knows what he means, but that ain't nothin' ag'in him, f'r I think with a lawyer you generally don't. It's a part of their business not to let no one know what they mean, f'r 'f law was simple no one 'd ever get fooled.

It takes another lawyer to see what a lawyer is doin', anynow. When a lawyer says anything is so to me ; never take no time to disbeneve him, 'cause he'd never got to be in the law a tall if he wan't able to prove the truth of his own lyin'.—"Susan Clegg and Her Friend, Mrs. Lathrop," by Anne Warner.

Not Very Crazy.

A nobleman against whom insanity was imputed by his relatives was asked during examination by Lord Loughborough, "How many legs has a sheep?"

"Does your lordship mean a live or a dead sheep?" asked the nobleman.

"Is it not the same thing?" said the chancellor.

"No, my lord, there is much difference. A live sheep has four legs, a dead sheep but two. The others are shoulders."

The life of food is the fat within it—the more fat the more real benefit from the food; that is why cod liver oil is a powerful builder of flesh.

Scott's Emulsion of pure cod liver oil solves the problem of how to take cod liver oil. That is one reason why doctors have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion for all wasting diseases, coughs, colds and bronchitis for almost thirty years.

One of the inducements offered in order to substitute something else for Scott's Emulsion is the matter of cost. You save a few cents at the expense of your health. Scott's Emulsion costs more because it does more and does it better than the substitutes.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Once more the sands in the glass of time have run, and a new start is about to be made. In casting a look back over the year that is gone we see many things that might have been left undone, and we are conscious of many other things which were left undone that should have been accomplished. But, leaving all that behind—from now on we must set a new mark and strive for some new prize. We know not what 1905 may have in store for us, but be it good or bad we should strive with the best that is in us to achieve something more during the year that is to come than we have in the one that is past. "The world gets out of the way of the man who knows where he is going," is a common expression, but it is a true one. If we set about to do a thing and then keep right on at it, we will surely win in the end.

When Admiral George Dewey and his fleet were steaming on to Manila, the foremost ships signaled to him, "We can see the entrance to the harbor. He signaled back, "Go on." Then came the word, "We can see the city," and the answer came, "Go on." Then came the words, "We can see the enemy's ships," and again the command flashed back, "Go on." During the year 1905 we will see the enemy's ships many a time, but if we fix our mind on overcoming them and then "go on" at every turn, the victory will be ours in the end.

There is an old saying that we generally find what we are looking for. During 1905 may we all look diligently for a good name and happiness—and looking diligently we will find it. Happy New Year!

The dance to be given by the Eagles tonight at the Alhambra promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs given here for some time. The Redwood City Orchestra, augmented by additional talent, will render its sweetest selections, so that all who attend may be assured of good music. A very capable and energetic committee has the affair in hand, so that all wish to dance will be accommodated.

The local Grammar and High School teachers were all at San Jose this week attending the County Institute and the sessions of the California Teachers' Association. One of the principal points of discussion at the business meeting of the Association was the increase of salary for teachers. We are personally of the opinion that the teachers of the State should be paid more than they are at present. This would tend to bring a larger number of well trained persons into the profession, as requirements would be raised with the salaries.

The plays given by the Bert P. Van Cleve Co. in the Alhambra, Thursday and Friday, were deserving of far larger attendance than they received. "The Fire Patrol," which was presented on Thursday night, was a melodrama of the blood-and-thunder type. The parts were all well taken and the play as a whole left a very pleasing impression with the audience. "Hazel Kirke," which was presented last night, evoked much favorable comment. The individual players entered heartily into their work, and all in all the Van Cleve Co. is one of the best that has appeared here recently.

Edward P. Genochio, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Genochio of this city, will be united in marriage to-morrow to Miss Lillian Markle of San Francisco. He is a graduate with last year's class from Sequoia and is a Freshman at the University of California College of Pharmacy. He is a bright young man and is held in the highest esteem by all who know him. Miss Markle is a charming young lady and has created a very favorable impression with all those who have met her.

ELECTION CONTEST ENDED.

Debenedetti Wins By a Majority of Four Votes.

The election contest of Antone Joseph, against Joseph Debenedetti for the office of Supervisor of the Fourth Township was heard in the Superior Court Tuesday. All the ballots voted at the last election were counted. In the Spanishtown precinct Joseph gained 27 ballots and Debenedetti 3. The election officers threw out 28 of Joseph's ballots which contained thumb marks that the contestant's attorneys allege were made by one of the election officers, and this is denied by the opposing counsel. Joseph gained two votes in Denniston, and there was no change in Purissima, where Joseph's majority was 9. The result of the recount still leaves Debenedetti in the lead by 6 votes.

The case was resumed yesterday and some twenty witnesses were examined to show that fraud was committed in the Halfmoon Bay precinct and that several illegal votes were cast for Debenedetti. When all the testimony was presented Judge Buck declared Debenedetti elected by 4 votes.

A vote that was cast by one Marsh for Debenedetti was declared illegal, and the court reversed itself on a baliot that was thrown out on Tuesday, and the same was counted for Joseph, further reducing Debenedetti't majority.

PAYS THE PENALTY.

The Slayer of Albion H. Glennan Hanged In Oahu Jail.

In Oahu, H. I., prison, at 11 o'clock of Dec. 15, Matsumoto Moritaro paid with his life for the murder of Albion H. Glennan.

Moritaro's crime, it will be remembered, was committed on Jan. 8th, when he placed six sticks of dynamite under Allie Glennan's bunk at Makawelli and blew that unfortunate young man into eternity. The murder was a mystery for some time, but the murderer was captured by Chester Doyle, a young interpreter, and confessed his crime. He fought for life vigorously and left no stone unturned to secure at least a life sentence.

On ascending the gallows Moritaro said that he was very sorry for the family of his victim and regretted having done the cruel act.

Married In Halfmoon Bay.

Herman W. Albrecht and Miss Rose Schubert were united in marriage in Halfmoon Bay, Christmas Day. Mr. Albrecht has lived in Halfmoon Bay for many years and is one of the most prosperous and popular young men of that neighborhood, and is to be congratulated upon winning so charming a bride. Mrs. Albrecht is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Schubert. She grew to young womanhood in Halfmoon Bay. After graduating from the grammar school, she entered the teaching profession and for several years taught in her home school. For the past two years she has been vice principal of the Colma school, where she taught up to the time of her marriage. She is a highly accomplished young lady, and by her good nature and kindly ways won the love of all on the coastside.

Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht will make their home in Sunol, where Mr. Albrecht is employed by the Spring Valley Water Co. The TIMES-GAZETTE joins their many friends in wishing the young couple long life and great happiness.

Lawsuit Ended.

The suit of Vivian Silva against J. H. Mansfield and others was decided in favor of defendants by Judge Lennon in the Superior Court, on Thursday. The action is the outgrowth of the case of Joe Rosa against A. A. Brumm. The former secured a judgment for $200 against Brumm in the Justice Court some time ago. In order to satisfy the judgment the Sheriff attached Brumm's property at Halfmoon Bay, the deed to which stood in the name of Vivian Silva. She had an injunction issued restraining the Sheriff from selling the property, holding that it was deeded to her for a proper consideration. Rosa contended that the real estate was fraudulently conveyed in order to defeat the satisfaction of the judgment. Considerable testimony was introduced on both sides. The Judge held that the property belonged to Brumm.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The Speakers Are Men of Experience in Horticultural Work.

A farmers' institute under the auspices of the State University will be held in Redwood City at 10 o'clock in the Alhambra Theatre to-day. The speakers will be Edward Berwick and L. F. Fowler, and the subjects to be discussed are. "The Experience of a California Horticulturist and What Our Postoffice Might Do for Our Farmers," and "Food Values and Cooking Household Sanitation."

These institutes are being held throughout the State and are everywhere well attended. They are interesting and instructive. All who can should listen to their talks to-day. The speakers are men of experience, thinkers, logical, and ought to draw a good attendance. There will be no admission fees.

WATER FRONT NEWS.

Codfish Industry Will Probably Be Increased.

Two big flood-gates have just been completed on the Whitney-Hearst reclamation and the sections drained by them will soon be ready for the plow. Mr. Peabody, in charge of the reclamation work, expects to have three dredgers at work shortly after the first of the year, and if the reclamation movement keeps up he will be compeled to have more still.

The Codfish business, owing to a new demand from the East, created by the failures from Atlantic fishing banks, is increasing so rapidly that it is likely the Alaska Codfish Company will have to at least double their already large plant on Redwood Creek.

There is serious talk of establishing a daily boat service from Redwood to San Francisco. This is made almost a necessity by the lively times on the creek, and should get good support from Redwood City.

Suit To Oust Tenant.

J. B. Coryell has commenced an action in the Superior Court against Jas. McNamara to gain possession of his premises known as the Sierra Point House, near South San Francisco, and judgment for $275 for back rent owed by the defendant. McNamara leased the place in December, 1903, agreeing to pay a monthly rental of $25. The Sierra Point House has recently become very valuable property, owing to the fact that it is situated near the big tunnels to be constructed by the Southern Pacific Co. for its bay shore cut-off.

Many people manage to live by absorption. They never work.

REDWOOD FIFTY YEARS AGO

County Towns As They Were and As They Are To-Day.

Interesting Predictions Made By a Former Editor Which Have Come To Pass.

We stated in our last number that a local paper was a source of information to the people of its own county, and that it was also the source to which non-residents and strangers look for information in regard to the resources and advantages of that county. As an evidence of the correctness of that proposition, we notice that our article on "Our County," has already been copied by some of our cotemporories, a fact which renders the duty of chronicling things in relation to our county, one of increased pleasure.

We have within our county several places that may be properly termed local centers—places where the people go on business and for pleasure. The most important of these is REDWOOD CITY, the county seat, located on the Pulgas Rancho, about twenty-eight miles south of San Francisco, with which city it is connected by a daily double line of stages, and with which, also, it carries on a considerable trade by water. It contains thirty dwelling houses, 175 permanent inhabitants, besides a number of transient persons, three general merchandize stores, two drug stores, two blacksmith shops, one wagon shop, two livery stables, one shipyard, one confectionery, bakery and restaurant, one daguerrean saloon, one good hotel, one bowling alley, one mattress maker, and a number of carpenters and persons engaged in the lumber business. This estimate is of the town proper, only—there are many inhabitants in the immediate vicinity who are not included herein. The climate of this place, like that of all others in San Mateo county, is delightful, having all the beauties and very few of the disagreeables of San Francisco. The location is a very healthy one, indeed, an excellent physician who is living here finds much reason to complain that it is "distressingly healthy." The great bulk of the business here is the lumber trade, carried on with San Francisco. This town is the principal outlet of the Redwoods, the place from which their millions of feet of lumber, posts and shingles are annually shipped. It is about four miles distant from the Bay, and connected with it by the Embarcadero Creek, the banks of which are here lined with wharves, where may be seen any day during the business seasons, quite a fleet of small vessels, receiving and discharging their cargoes. We have seen as many as fifteen sail here at one time. This place was platted in 1854 by the proprietors of the Pulgas rancho, and called Mezesville, a name by which it is still known in all deeds and instruments of title; but Redwood City is the more favored and general name, and it is the name given in the act locating the county seat. There is here a large brick courthouse and jail, which was erected during the last year, at a cost of ten thousand dollars. Several other brick buildings are in contemplation, to be erected during the coming summer.

BELMONT, three miles north of Redwood City, is one of the most beautiful locations in the county. It is the center of a considerable trade, has three stores, a hotel and a restaurant. Here, also, some lumber and a quantity of produce is shipped to San Francisco. Near Belmont, in one of the most lovely locations in the State, is the country residence of the managing proprietor of the Pulgas rancho.

SAN MATEO, eight miles north of Redwood City, is perhaps one of the most beautiful spots imaginable, and commands the admiration of every one who has seen it. Situated upon the high lands, in the midst of shady groves of live oaks, sheltered by the western hills from the ocean winds and fogs, with the broad bay and every variety of landscape in view, it is a scene of beauty from which a lover of the picturesque in nature would never willingly turn away. It is the great resort of pleasure parties from the city, many of whose wealthy citizens are looking towards it with a view to locating country seats. Already beautiful and costly residences have been erected in this delightful neighborhood by Messrs. Howard, Macondray, Polhemus, Whipple, Cook, and others, and many more will soon follow.

CRYSTAL SPRING, in the Canada San Andres, three miles west of San Mateo, is also becoming a favorite resort for pleasure seekers. Situated in a little valley, thickly studded with the clustering live oaks, surrounded on every side by high mountains, shut ont from cold winds, and rich in nature's beauties, it is truly a proper resort for the lovers of pleasure.

SPANISH TOWN, situated at Half-Moon Bay, is the outlet of all the commerce of the western portion of the county. It is a fine location, looking fairly out on old Ocean, and is the center of a rich agricultural district. It has several stores, and a variety of other branches of business which go to make up a country town.

WOODSIDE, about six miles from Redwood City, though it makes no pretensions to the title of town or village, is nevertheless somewhat of a public place. Situated at the foot of the mountains, in the immediate vicinity of several mills, it is the center of quite a trade. It has one store, in which is the postoffice. Mountain Dell Division No. 74, Sons of Temperance, is located here. At this point, also, the citizens have done what has not, as yet, been accomplished in any other place in the county—they have formed a library association, and have already accumulated quite an extensive library of excellent works. We would that the example of the people of Woodside might be more generally imitated.

SEARSVILLE, a little village two miles and a half south of Woodside, is also a considerable point of trade with lumbermen. Here is quite a town, with two stores, a blacksmith shop, two hotels, etc. Here is also another postoffice, established, like the one at Woodside, by the Government, for the accommodation of the people, but both are dependent upon their own resources for mail facilities. They are, however, supplied with a daily mail, which we believe is conveyed to and from Redwood City, at the joint expense of those two offices.

The above item was published in the second number of the Times-Gazette April 16, 1859. Since then Redwood City has improved wonderfully. The principal industry is no longer lumbering but manufacturing, and now thousands of sides of leather are shipped annually by our three tanneries: The Frank Tanning Company, Beeger's Tannery, and The California Oak Leather Company. Then but one store could be boasted of, now commencing with Stafford Bros. in their new quarters we see Heise, Maloney, Underhill, Muller, the Eastern Dry Goods Store, Hind, Bomberg, Goldsmith, Chamberlain, Theil, A. D. Walsh, Hull Bros., Lowenstein, C. H. Offermann, Paulsen, Martin, Ryan, Einstein, Bowman, Glennan, Mullen, Barger, Tribolet, Del Monte Bakery, Brace Bros., R. C. Holmquist, Jamieson, Hoffen, Cullen, Peterson, Plump, Knight, where everything from tacks to toothpicks or sausages to stoves can be obtained. Indeed the above mentioned stories carry everything that anyone could want and there is no need of going elsewhere to get a single commodity.

There are also seven as good lawyers in Redwood as can be found anywhere. There are five up-to-date doctors and two dentists. There are five first-class hotels, three good blacksmith shops, one planing mill, two lumber yards, one photograph gallery, and belonging to the gentlemen enumerated before are seven grocery stores, four dry good stores, one jewelry store, two drug stores, two harness shops, two candy stores, two hardware stores, one bicycle store, two fruit stores, two wood and coal yards, one feed and grain store, and three plumbing supply establishments. There are also two banks in first class condition, one of which has issued a large amount of paper currency. There are three real estate offices and two good livery stables, and last but not least two prosperous newspapers.

The church life of the town is varied and the stranger can find either the Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal or Methodist churches to worship in. The schools of Redwood are one of its main features, the grammar school is a fine large building erected at the cost of many thousand dollars while the new brick high school was lately completed at a cost of $50,000. The new court house now in course of erection will cost about $250,000 and is being built of fine finished stone, and a new $10,000 Carnegie library will soon be built.

Redwood City has a splendid sewer system, the homes are lighted by electricity or gas, and the water supply comes from fine artesian wells on the marsh. The town was lately bonded for $100,000 so that the sewer system might be extended to newly acquired territory and that the streets might be bitumenized and macadamized.

The population of Redwood is over 2500. All industries thrive here and besides the artisans of our midst the town is the home of many who work in San Francisco. There are sixty odd trains daily passing through the town, all of which stop at the station and a franchise is being sought for a electric road which will soon join Redwood with San Francisco and San Jose. The water facilities are of the best and ships of large tonnage can come into the creek to the Salt Works or to the Codfish Company's wharf.

Should space permit we could go on at any length concerning Redwood, but with one more word regarding the climate and we have ended. The climate of the Santa Clara Valley is the finest in the world. Redwood City is in the most favored portion of that valley.

New Suit Begun.

H. D. Pierce of Colma last Saturday instituted a new election contest against Julius Eikerenkotter. The allegations in the complaint are the same as those in the one filed by James T. Casey. On Thursday attorney Easten, for James Casey, made a motion in the Superior Court to withdraw all the evidence presented in the case. The motion will be argued at 10 o'clock this morning, and the case begun by Pierce will also be taken up. It is evident that the former suit will be withdrawn.

John Duff is out with a new motor cycle

Mr. and Mrs. Delos White and Miss Retta White, of San Francisco, have spent the week at Menlo visiting Mrs. White's sister, Mrs. Edgar C. Humphrey.

Dr. Sherman, chief physician for the Children's Hospital, San Francisco, was here Wednesday. He is shortly to erect a handsome home on the Atherton property to the west of the Sacred Hesrt Convent.

There was a reunion of the J. R. Doyle family at the home of Joseph Flynn, Berkeley, Monday. Twenty guests, children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. R. Doyle, partook of a delicious dinner. The event was a happy one.

A bible class for boys and young men will be started in the Church of the Nativity Sunday, January 8th at 9 a. m. Mr. T. J. Griffin who is well versed in sacred lore will take charge. The clergy are now busy providing pupils for the new class.

Ground is being prepared for the planting of ornamental trees and shrubs in Holy Cross cemetery. The efforts of the Cemetery Association to have the horrid wooden structures that disfigure the sacred place removed have hitherto been only partially successful.

Christmas night John Duff and his sisters entertained their young friends at their parents' home. The evening was delightfully passed in playing games, singing and dancing. A tempting supper was served at 11 o'clock. The young host and hostess added new laurels to their fame as entertainers.

It is reported that the real estate firm of Selby, Rodgers & Co. are about to subdivide a tract of land belonging to B. A. Barney, west of Sacred Heart Convent and the property is shortly to be placed upon the market. It is choice real estate and ought to find ready sale.

John MacBain went to Gilroy yesterday to look over the work of renovating the buildings of the Gilroy Hot Springs. The resort was recently leased to Mr. McDonald, formerly of Boca. He is to have all the buildings repaired and new ones erected and will have the best accommodation possible for his patrons. The Springs is the most popular resort in California.

The Gaelic League of Menlo is enjoying a brief vacation. Some have botaken themselves to the foothills in quest of game, others have sought rest for weary brain in the crowded city. Not a few find recreation and pastime in beating time to the merry music of the "Connaught Man's Rambles" or "Green Grow the Rushes O" as interpreted in light fantastic by Professor Griffin. The class will reconvene on Sanuary 8th.

At the last meeting of Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W., the following officers were elected for the term: George Fromhertz, Past President; John Brascesco, President; J. E. Fitzgerald, First Vice President; John Roach, Second Vice President; Frank Andrews, Third Vice President; Charles Smith, Recording Secretary; L. McClellan, Financial Secretary; W. A. Doyle, Treasurer; C. Hill, Marshal; Trustees, M. Kavanaugh, F. Johnson, J. E. Weeden.

The Christmas ceremonies at the Church of the Nativity were most impressive. There were masses at 6, 7, 8 and 10:30 o'clock. The regular choir of the church sang Leonard's Mass in E flat. There was solemn high Mass at 10:30. Father Meil of the Seminary was celebrant, assisted by Fathers Bailey and Albes as deacon and subdeacon respectively. Mr. James Silver, ecclesiastical student in Minor Order, acted as Master of Ceremonies and Mr. James Doyle, now home on a vacation from the Seminary, was censer-bearer. The acoylites were Master John O'Brien and Master Walter Gale. Father Ayrenack, President of St. Patrick's Seminary assisted in the sanctuary. The choir augmentod by several ecclesiastical students rendered fine music under the directorship of Miss Frances Hausman.

Last Saturday some unknown persons broke into the glass house on the premises of Mr. Keil and removed choice ferns, potted plants and palms, the value of which is estimated at $100. Some of the stolen property was recovered by Constable Hill. On Wednesday two tramps entered the Edgar Mills residence and took five pairs of blankets and on leaving the premises were discovered by the gardner, Eugene Smith, who gave chase and after a hard struggle succeeded in capturing one of the theives and securing one pair of the blankets. The petty offender was turned over to Officer Hill and taken to Redwood City. Several burglaries have been reported lately. Constable Cronk and his deputy are using strenuous efforts to rid the community of hobos and are making nightly raids on their rendezvous. The officers believe they will all be soon rounded up and the community freed from this objectionable class of petty thieves.

A STEADY GROWTH.

A development without any flourish of trumpets has been going on in our midst for the past six months which means much good for this end of the county. Ever since the opening of the University the beautiful Menlo foothills have been an attraction which members of the faculty have longed to enjoy for villa homes, but the prospect of pioneering deterred the most enthusiastic from going there alone. Last summer something in the way of concerted action was determined upon, and about a dozen purchased villa sites of from six to ten acres each.

These purchasers will build during the coming summer, and their colony will be a nucleus about which will develop what it is hoped will be one of the most picturesque and congenial of university communities. The banding together has made it possible to pioneer without the discomforts which usually attach, and now, good roads, water service, telephones and electric lights are made possible for immediate use.

Professors, we welcome you, and our "glad hand" is out to assist you in your project, which must necessarily be of mutual benefit and interest to us all.

McEwen, the Hypnotist.

McEwen, the famous magician and hypnotist, who will appear here next Tuesday with the Western Vaudeville Company, is considered by the press of this country as being in the very front rank of his class, and his class is A1 and gilt-edged. His feats of magic are what the name implies—magical, for it does not seem possible that they can be accomplished by any human means. Not many years ago Heller startled the world with his seemingly impossible feats. He established a record as "The Wizard of the World." He amused and interested the courts of Europe, and looking for new world's to conquer, bewildered the magi of Persia and mystified the rajahs and wise men of India, that land of the occult. Yet McEwen does all that Heller did, and he does it better, and then so much more that space will not permit even an attempt at description. Added to this his mastery of the subtle mystery of hypnotism is complete. Go and see and realize all that he does, and then—tell if you can.

At the Majestic, San Francisco.

"Mizpah, or the Story of Esther" the biblical drama by Ella Wheeler Wilcox about whose labors on its writing so much in the Eastern papers is to be given its premiere at the Majestic theatre during the week beginning Monday, January 9th. The drama is in blank verse and those conversant with it declare that it presents the poetess in her most impassioned style. Its dramatic climaxes are intense and the simple story of the bible is brought out in its most vivid coloring in action and words. The characters presented are those that figure in the recital of Holy Writ and scenically the times, conditions and grandeur of the era of the Persian captivity are fully and elaborately depicted. Its production is considered to be one of the theatrical events of the times as Ella Wheeler Wilcox is one of the great figures of the world of thought and she evidences in her writings that intensity of the dramatic emotion which if rightly presented before the footlights give promise of being productive of something more than the ordinary.

Was Well Known Here.

Mrs. Rose Mitchell Owen, sister of George Mitchell, passed away in San Jose Christmas morning, after an illness of over six weeks with typhoid fever. Mrs. Owen was a beautiful young woman of many excellent qualities. She was highly accomplished, being an exceptionally sweet singer. She was a native of San Jose, and was a graduate of the University of the Pacific Conservatory of Music. She was a daughter of Joseph S. Mitchell of Los Gatos, and is survived by a husband and a son, Keith.

The funeral of Mrs. Owen was held Tuesday morning from the residence of O. A. Hale. The services were conducted by the Rev. Thornton Mills of the First Presbyterian Church, who paid a loving tribute to her faultless character and kindly disposition. The remains were taken to Cypress Lawn Cemetery for cremation.

During her visits to her brother George Mrs. Owen made many friends in Redwood.

Held by the Enemy.

The Majestic Theater will commence the new year by a magnificent offering of "Held by the Enemy" beginning with the special holiday matinee on Monday, January 2nd. The substitution of this great military play for "Old Heidelberg" as was previously announced was necessitated by the magnitude of the scenic preparations involved in the forthcoming productions of "Mizpah, or The Story of Esther", Ella Wheeler Wilcox's great biblical drama which will be given its premiere January 9th. "Held by the Enemy" is one of the strongest attractions that has been offered on the American stage. Presented by such a cast as has been selected for the Majestic production it will indeed be a magnificently rendered and ought to appeal to theater goers. It is a military drama in which romance, comedy and the pathetic, are well interblended while at the same time its intense scenes rising to the heights of the dramatic are aflame with patriotic inspiration.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

Her Choice.

The wife of a burglar was being examined by an eminent lawyer. "You are the wife of this man?" asked the barrister. "Yes," replied the witness. "You knew he was a burglar when you married him?"—continued the lawyer. "Yes," she answered. "And how did you come to contract a marriage with such a man?" "Well, it was this way," said the witness sarcastically, "I was getting old and had to choose between a burglar and a lawyer. What else could I do?"

His and Her Work.

"Woman overworked? Fudge! Think of the men!"

"Ah, but you know the old saying, 'Woman's work is never done.'"

"I know it, and that's the reason she oughtn't to complain. A man has to do his work or lose his job."

Merely Existed.

A number of lawyers were exchanging stories of their experiences with witnesses under examination. One of the parties told the following: He was questioning a witness and said: "You have lived in New York a number of years. How long?" "Just twenty-five years." "Where did you live before that time?" asked the lawyer, hoping to prove an important point. "I didn't live," replied the witness. "I was single!"

When a Man Tells You
That a Bad Case of Piles
Can Only Be Cured by a cutting operation, he may mean well but he is mistaken. In this era of advanced science it is A SHAME TO CUT ANY CASE OF PILES. Our method—the new way—of curing piles robs the old surgical way—still urged—of all its terrors and brings about results more effective because it is more radical and permanent. It obviates the tortures and distressing after-effects of surgery and is without failure, pain, danger or hindrance to daily pursuits. The treatment can only be applied by a competent physician, occupying but a few minutes' time. We have cured nearly 7000 men and women with method. Many of these cases were of 30 to 40 years standing, names of whom will be sent for quiet investigation. Also, without surgery cure Fistulas, Fissures, ulceration, etc. For particulars address THOS.
